

ICA 38th CONFERENCE: CLOSING CEREMONY

Nachman Oron

Chair of ICA

Now let's look forward, let's look to next year. Next year I am sure all of you are going to attend the Salzburg conference, the ICA 39th conference, may I invite our host for next year Hans Werner Ksica to make the invitation.

Hans has the technology so:

(Music, slides and a sound introduction to Salzburg from Hans Werner Ksica, ICA National Representative, Austria.)

Nachman Oron, Chair of ICA. Well if anyone had any doubt about Salzburg. Okay as we are about to close this conference and you probably realise that behind the preparation of this kind of conference there is a lot of effort. Many people take part in this. May I invite here the Members of the Board; my Vice Chair, Choy Peng; the Programme Committee Chair, Martha Dorris; and our Editor and Treasurer, Larry Caffrey, please join me in thanking them for their work.

Will the members of the programme committee who had executed excellent work stand up? Thank you all very much. This is a real ICA experience and very unusual one. Behind the scenes we had an excellent support team that made it happen. May I call each one of them to come forward? Last but not least the lady who led the support team and who joined us in all the preparation and the meetings before conference Myroula; and finally our great host Costa Agrotis. Thank you all.

Well we still have another night before us; tonight is our gala dinner and awards ceremony; dress is business attire with ties and your best dresses. We are going to start it at 8 o'clock. I hope very much to see you all tonight and again in Salzburg next year. Until then, Good bye.
